OBTAINING A MARRIAGE LICENSE IN ARIZONA

Requirements

1. If you are both 18 years or older, you can get a marriage license.
2. If you are under 18, you must either have a notarized parental consent form or have your parents accompany you, present the proper identification, and sign the parental consent form in front of the clerk issuing your license.
3. If you are age 16 – 17, identification and one of the following documents showing proof of age is needed: certified copy of birth certificate, current driver's license, state or military I.D. card, or current passport.
4. If you are age 15 or under, you must also have a court order to get a marriage license.
5. The fee for a marriage license is $50.00 payable by cash or check with a driver's license or bank guarantee card, or credit card. If you are purchasing a license at the Justice Courts, they accept checks, money orders, or cashier's checks.
6. No blood test is required to obtain a marriage license. Copies of previous divorce decrees are not required.
7. You may be required to provide proof of age to obtain a marriage license.
8. You will receive your marriage license at the time you apply for it; so, you can be married on the same day.
9. The marriage license is valid for one year, and it can only be used within the State of Arizona.

Additional Information

1. There are special requirements for Covenant Marriages. You do not have to be an Arizona resident to get a marriage license.
2. Neither common law marriages nor same sex marriages are recognized in Arizona. First cousins may marry if both are 65 years of age or older or if one or both first cousins are under sixty-five years of age, upon approval of any superior court judge in the state if proof has been presented to the judge that one of the cousins is unable to reproduce.
